Prelube was held at JDs Pub and I could tell by at least a couple that showed up that they'd participated. It was a balmy spring evening, fairly obvious as more than just the usual suspects, Broker Boner and Sir Mobeys, were sporting shorts. It was great to see some long lost hashers, Polar Express, Goes Halfway and Blowin' Ho's. Circle up was called by RA Don't Know Dick, who gleefully rubbed her hands and commented on the nice weather and how happy she was to be able to bring out her toy chest! I had pulled Mobey off to the side and briefly explained where the trail was supposed to be and where the hash holds was with promises of lots of flour. Chips A Whore and Boner had also semi-volunteered to help hare the runners, but they also promised to lead them directly to the Hash Hold so I didn't trust them (can you ever??). I explained the markings, again promised lots of flour and we were off.

I led the walkers Slippery When Wet, Sir Wee Little Bladder, Cheap N Easy, Blowin, Goes Halfway, DKD, and Drippy, down the hill to watch the runners struggle thru the bushes and out of sight. The runners, Mobey, Boner, Chips, Pucker Sucker, Titties & Tassels, Polar, Crash Test Rummy, disappeared up a long hill and down a long hill and up and down another and another, through the trees and over bike ramps and drop-offs to hopefully find all of the checkbacks and false trails that I'd set.

TNT, and Pucker obediently went over the bike obstacles; I'm not sure about Crash but he didn't have any blood or scratches when we saw him later, unlike Mobey. They eventually ended up near the SPCA to be circled back to find the Hash Hold in the opposite direction. We walkers semi followed the runners but detoured thru the false trail back to the bike path. There were several who had never seen the area before and couldn't believe the engineering and work that went into those trails. Speculation was made as to how stoned you'd have to be to be brave enough for those jumps and drop-offs! After circling back to the north we found the split in the trail where there was an E for Eagle and B for Budgie. Wee Little kept wanting to know what was on the Eagle trail and I kept telling him to go find out for himself, but he wouldn't bite. Not sure if that behavior is eligible for the Piss N Moan shirt, but...

Blowin' Ho's was happy to be the FWB and lead us on the Budgie trail, directly to the Hash Hold. The runners all arrived a couple of minutes later, and I learned that TNT, Pucker and Crash had taken the unmarked flour free Eagle route and still found their way to the Hash Hold with everyone else. Munchies (including real Australian black licorice) and beverages were consumed and we headed back to the start where Curb Crawler was waiting with the swill.

The hares were rewarded (I was very happy not to be punished) and then DKD pulled out her toy box ☺ Crash and Mobey were punished for wipeouts - Crash had one at Prelube! DKD pulled out a couple of shooters so I thought we birthday people would get those but nope, Goes Halfway, Blowin and myself got the f'n PLANK ☹ What an evil RA!!! She then proceeded to give the nice shooters to Curb and Boner for being nice guys and showing up with the swill or some other lame excuse! Cheap was punished for not even trying to remember hash names; Born Again hashers, Polar, Blowin and GH were rewarded for showing up and then Blowin was made to strip to show off his forbidden Melissa's shirt. So he stripped nearly all the way to avoid getting soaked again as he demonstrated the SLEEVE. I'm sure the RA will have more new toys to play with next week, maybe a new Mitzi??? Apparently the other one, Mitzi 3 or 4? had too many holes in her parts again. On On was held at Mr Mikes where I was again rewarded for my birthday with a Blow Job that I had to drink in a male hashers lap.
