A Royal Run ...

-A wonderful day in the neighborhood, lots of sun, beer, bugs, burrs and bikers.

Our Royal Hares Sir Wee Little Bladder and Sir Mobey's of Dickus could not have found a more perfect spot for an evening run. It even came with a hostess, far away hasher from a way back and newly named Hell's Angel. She was quite excited to host our run tonight but our Hares failed to excite her while setting trail. Apparently she had no desire to go all the way or get even get a little wet. The Royal Hares may have lost their Mojo.

I think there where 17 of us eager hashers tonight circling up just outside of the Gabrielson Farm; more runners than walkers tonight but we like a more intimate group.

It seemed the runners could never find trail; always backtracking and searching due to the multiple false trails and check backs. Never bothered Pucker Sucker though, she just made her own trail. Us walkers were good, always on trail and well behaved.

Of course no Royal run would be complete without a river crossing, a dirty shit colored river crossing.

But we hashers love a challenge and we all crossed that Pee warm river to an awaiting false trail. The runners were most kind and hid behind some bushes until the walkers made it across.

With the tough stuff behind us, we made our way to the hash hold to a waiting Premie. There we were greeted with a cold beer and snacks, cellar tours and barnyard animal tours. Wee left with a beer and some Velcro gloves and we never saw him again. That's not true; he came back in 15 minutes.

As mentioned, the burrs where a big factor tonight. A lot of the gals complained about them sticking to them. It was observed by an anonymous hasher that if they would shave their legs they would not have this problem. They did not bother Mobey, but he's a daily shaver.

With the Hash Hold behind us we circled up for punishments and rewards. It was nice to see an old friend the Plank out again. Boner did so well with it that he tried the sleeve as well. I know I was rewarded for helping G-Spot cross the river and was given some twisted thing, worst beer I ever had. The most notable punishment of the night went to Slippery When Wet. She picked the wrong night to wear her new shoes. That river water definitely made her shoes slippery when wet but there was no complaining when she savored that tasty beer. Now we must keep an eye on her to see if she pulls a Boner and wears her second set of shoes this week. Just saying.

With punishment and rewards out of the way we were off to the On On, Mr. Mikes.
