Hare(s): Sir Mobeys of Dickus

Location: Mobeys' Place

Prelube: 5314 42 ave

On On: 5314 42 ave

Scribe: Slippery When Wet

I was thinking (always dangerous) that it was interesting that the out-going RA wrote the last scribe and the in-coming wrote the this one.

Not interesting? Ok

We had a great time and fabulous weather. Mobey says it's because of his clean living.....

There was a great turnout; Broken Boner, Curb Crawler, Wendy, Crash Test Rummy, Lady Mz Daisy, TNT, Don't Dick, Sir Cum's A Lot, Hymen Trouble, Chips A Whore, Cum liquor Snatch, late cummer Lady Cum See My Box, Deb, (for circle up), Pleasure Chest (for the fire) and myself; Slippery When Wet.

It was stated right from the beginning that the Hash Hold was at his house! Mobey! The walkers; if we can call them that had a grand ole time sitting around the yard enjoying the perfect fall night on the back of a “clean livin'” dude. Oh well, who hasn't?

Before the run started, I introduced the new shit #2 and was immediately corrected. This is apparently #3. I made some joke about blood and everyone cringed; Crash said, “Too Far” and I laughed. Remember folks, the goal is to make myself laugh. Mission accomplished!

I asked for volunteers for the great honour of carrying shit #2 (technically 3) and no one came forward at first. I had to ask again. Imagine!?

Chips volunteered and then complained when it didn't have any phallic stuff on it. I said the shit was “stolen” by “someone” last time so best not to make it a portable sex store.

During the run we pretty well kept together except for Boner. I am beginning to think he doesn't like us. Have you noticed how he always keeps his distance?

We ran down hills then turned around and ran right back up again. Is this basic training? It's about that time I start cursing myself for thinking I'm a runner.

However, as always, the run ended, and we all made it through without dying, falling or getting lost. Well, someone almost impaled his junk on a log, but I won't say who.

The Prelube, Circle up, Hash Hold, On On, and the final Circle up were all at the same spot. Quite confusing for a new RA. When? ... Who...? What? Mobey did say he was going to give me a hard time.

Punishments were given out and the Hare was thanked. In that order. Sir Cums now has a sleeve that fits so look out mister!

Chips drank from #2, Crash was punished for trying to help me out and Lady Cum See My Box was punished for being late and Don't Know Dick tried to reward me but ended up punishing me for ignoring her. I'm just emulating the RA's of days gone by. Monkey see monkey do.

Another thing happened during punishments. It was announced that Red licorice was an integral part of the hash hold and those who do not have it will be punished accordingly; by Chips. Or at the very least he will not vote for your run as run of the year.

Maybe we should give green licorice a chance.

As mentioned, the ONON was in Mobey's back yard. He made dogs, burgers and had a variety of other snacks. But no red licorice. He supplied wine, beer, and coolers but because of the lack of the red stuff it fell short of the run of the year. Even though it was the first and only run so far. SAD.

Let's do better People!

A shout out to those still volunteering for Mismanagement and a new victim; Crash, who is taking over the website. He is already reaping the benefits! Punished by Sir Cums for a mistake online. Good thing they didn't punish me for the last 2 years of my errors. I might even like beer by now.
