Run # 1077- Oct. 17th, 2019

Hare(s): Sir Cums A lot

Location: Lacombe Corn Maze

Prelube: Hudson's

On On: JD's

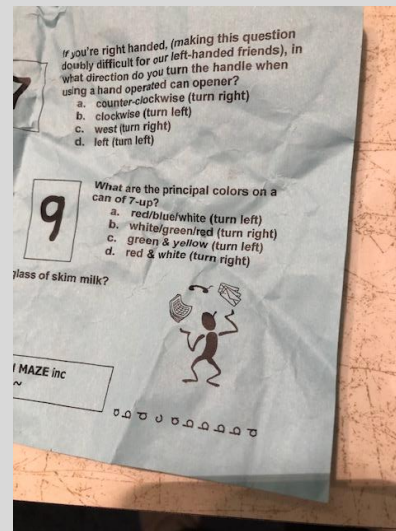

Scribe: Slippery When Wet

We drove up to the run after missing the Prelube with a few minutes to spare. Since it was at the Lacombe corn maze, we did not have time for both. Some people work for a living. We had a mini prelube in the parking lot at the maze. Even the Hare decided the time was too tight and he was drinking alone in his car when we pulled up. TNT had the honour and privilege of driving me and even shared her homemade wine us. Some people were more committed to the whole experience. Chips A Whore, Don't Know Dick and Broken Boner were the only three who made the trek down town to Hudson's and to the run on time!

Pucker Sucker was nice and picked up a visiting Edmonton Hasher, Very Saggy Testicles; VST. He will be known as that from now on. Lady Cum See My Box came in at 6:56 with time to spare. It was significantly colder after the sun went down but the wind would be nil in the maze!

We circled up and introductions were made. No scribe was chosen. I felt bad about forgetting to ask Sir Cums A Lot and volunteered to do it.

After paying, peeing and looking at and deciding to ignore the rules we grabbed a cheat sheet and headed into the maze. Did we know the answers were on the bottom? I didn't. Not that it mattered. Finding those damned poles was hard!

Thank god for hat lights. Thanks Pucker! TNT immediately took off into an illegal cut through never to be seen again. Boner, DKD, Cum See and I sauntered through looking for post #1. Chips, Pucker, and VST went in a different direction. At the first turn Cum See and I went left and DKD and Boner went right. Eventually Cum See and I made it from #1 to #3 then to #10. What happened to #4-#9 I don't know?? I think DKD stole them. We found the rest of them on the bridge guiding us incorrectly to the exit. Typical!

After a few games and activities, we made it to the hash hold. A lovely spread of chips, licorice, cookies, wine, beer and coolers were had by all. We circled up at the same spot to dole out punishments as well.

We thanked the Hare, Sir Cums for his treats, beer and the run. VST had a few; one for the visit and one for competing on the obstacle course with Pucker. TNT was punished for short cutting; a punishable offence in the name of the corn maze as well. I was punished for saying race but really, I was saying racist. Boner was punished for choosing to work last week instead of hashing and everyone was punished for playing a little too hard on the human foosball court. We all sang a better rendition of El Camino but not perfect. We'll get it right one day Red Deer!

The ONON was changed to JD's since we felt like being in Red Deer. JD's was good as usual. Another small but great group!

I posted the words to the song again. We'll try again!

ONON, Slippery,

El Camino, El, El Camino

El Camino, El, El, Camino

Well the front is like a car

And the back is like a truck.

The front is where you drive

And the back is where you...

El Camino, El, El Camino
