Mackenzie Trail - Canoe Lunch

Ode to the Hares

There once was a hare who wore jeans,
Whore Slayer is the Fonz from our teens!
He runs light as a feather,
Despite his black leather,
But don't the jeans chafe the weenie and beans?!

There was an ole hare named Sir Wee,
He has a bad hip and bad knee,
He talks kinda funny,
And is sweet as honey,
But man! He stops often to pee!

The runners set out on this glorious night,
Exploring these trails sure is a delight,
False trails were a plenty,
Checkbacks not so many,
We ran until dark took over the light.

The walkers tried hiding behind bushes and trees,
And ambushed the runners with twigs, rocks, and leaves!
They think they're witty,
We think they're shitty,
Here's hoping they'll get stung by the wasps and the bees!

Together those hares set quite a great trail,
With an abundance of flour so the hashers don't fail,
We ran to and fro,
We searched high and low,
Hashhold! Brimming with licorice, pringles, and ale!
