Covid Run #22 Oct 8th Kraays Farm Corn Maze

Hares: Whoever found the way out

Hashers of the Corn Maze

It was appropriately enough, a dark and stormy night. Blustery and cool with a threat of rain, perfect for a run through a covid - deserted corn maze. First misconception: pandemic isolations would be in place and it would there would be no-one but us there. It was actually very busy, with many groups running around, though you did have to book them and there were multiple 'No Running' signs. Several of the last year's attractions were missing but there were still many exhibits and activities.

We split into groups and used the web app to find clues and answer questions to navigate the maze, which featured 8 foot high, creepy corn stalks this year.

Fill in the blanks with movie trivia:

1. Broken Boner was moving very quickly through the complicated paths in an obvious competition for his life: _____
2. There was a question about a whale and Dixie Cup's boring name: _____
3. Don't Know Dick lied about finding a signpost: Number 5 Is not Alive: _____
4. Mz Daizey was looking for green aliens and crop circles around every corner: _____
5. Wee Little Bladder climbed a tree-like platform and couldn't see the end of the corn field but only the giant spiders of Mirkwood: _____
6. Newcomer and virgin, Bree, was laughing and giggling enough for a killer with a hook to find her: _____
7. Cumsee found a ringing cell phone and met a desperate teenager: _____
8. Slippery was Seeing Dead People and sending messages from beyond: _____
9. Mobey was very pleased about his new living situation and singing like Gru in movie #2: _____
(song name)
10. TNT kept looking upwards for Hitchcock's crop duster chasing her through the corn field: _____
_____ but it was actually thrown corn cobs that startled her (and she retaliated)
11. Crash personified Harry Potter, when throwing invisible snowballs (or corn cobs), navigating narrow trails while avoiding dead ends and trying to outrun his competitors to reach the prize: _____

We all survived and were enjoying circle up until the rain arrived and killed the evening. Most re-grouped back at JDs for a safe warm up.

First Annual ASS Run!

Hares: TNT & Slippery When Wet

Scribe: Crash

It was a chilly evening for the middle of October, but spirits were high. Only 8 hashers (including hares) got to partake in possibly the run of the year followed by possibly the best hash hold ever. It was the first annual ASS run (French onion edition).

The hares kept the runners and walkers together with clever clues that had the runners collecting the clues and bringing them to the walkers Wee, DKD and Crash to read. The clues were written on the back of soup labels and in an envelope with specific instructions on who could open it. At one time Boner, Pucker and Whore Sleigher got so excited they went looking for the next clue without even having heard the previous one. Altogether it may have been the most collaboration that RDH3 has ever known!

The run led us to Slippery's garage where she and TNT had hot delicious homemade French onion soup waiting for us. The hashers were to judge which hare made the best soup hash hold. Since the soup was so good, the hares weren't even punished for being competitive. It was tough to decide as both versions were incredibly tasty. In the end it was 4 votes to 4 and a tie was declared. There are already rumblings of a re-match. Hopefully this is the first ASS run of many for RDH3.
