Run #30 / #1137 March 11th 2021

Hares: Lady Cum See

Location: Parking lot behind Parkland School 6016 - 45 Ave

Scribe: TNT

When you volunteer to scribe but forget that you're babysitting your Granddaughter for the weekend, what do you do? Outsource of course!

I tasked Maddy, my 7 year old Granddaughter with drawing a picture of each of us based on a vanilla version of our hash names. Do you know how difficult it is to explain what TNT means to your Grandchild? Ya well, I just lied and told her I run faster than dynamite and that's how I got my name! I'm not sure why Lady Cum See and DKD are naked in the pictures, and everyone else has a matching shirt on. And I'm also not sure why DKD and Sir Wee appear to be holding a bomb but I gave her full creative control so who am I to argue with the artist!

There were only 6 brave and energetic hashers Thursday night, and what a shame because Lady Cum See and Slippery set an ah-ma-zing trail!! It was just as long as mine the week prior but nobody whined and moaned about the length of this trail!!

DKD and I rolled in at 6:45 and became concerned that we were in the wrong place because we were the first ones there. Oh how I can't wait until we can eat, drink and be merry together like old times. Moments later, Crash, Slippery, and Lady Cum See showed up. Sir Wee came squealing in late so should he not be drafting this scribe?

3 walkers and 3 runners set off in different directions on a journey of discover and adventure to locate the nights gathering place. Along the way we found many a false trail, mainly at the top of every single hill, including one which Slippery proudly indicated where she fell setting the trail, and was properly punished for later.

After many many checkbacks and false trails we found the other half of our group and celebrated hashhold together on top of the bridge gazing out over the frozen river. It was magical 😊

Back at circle up, Crash picked on every one of us, so we all picked on him too! Hey, did you know this is the last night we'll need headlamps! Spring hashing is here!
