Hare: Puckaaaa

Location: Heritage Ranch

Scribe: Crash

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of light, it was the season of darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair.

9 hashers braved the elements and the threat of a Pucker run at Heritage Ranch. When I arrived at the run Curb, Lost Ann Found, Don't Know Dick and Boner were pre-lubing. Slippery, TNT and Mobey's joined soon after. Our hare was mysteriously missing. She finally showed up and showed us some markings unlike those we found later on trail and we were off.

After the usual false trail down the stairs, we went on a long and glorious run down the path and through the trees. Check backs and false trails were plentiful. Eventually the walkers and runners met up for a Dick Pic. (take note of the drawings on the windmill)

Mobey's seemed to think we were done running and asked for a beer but it was a Pucker run after all so we ran some more. After a bit of bushwhacking we arrived at the river's edge for a fine hash hold. On in was called and we started the long climb up the stairs to the parking lot. I don't know what they were talking about but Slippery and Pucker seemed to forget where they were going.

Once all the cats (I mean hashers) were herded, circle up began. Curb's 50th birthday was celebrated for the umpteenth time and various punishments were handed out.

It is a far, far better thing that I do, than I have ever done; it is a far, far better rest that I go to than I have ever known.
