May the 4th be with you

Talk about confusion what run is this? I thought it was Curb's run, no its Puckers run. I thought it was May the 4th be with you run, no its 007 run, or is it Cinco de Mayo ? What the hell lets cover it all.

Pre lube was held in a classy place where they know how to make cocktails that are shaken not stirred. Funny but I was certain Curb was there but he was in disguise with a funny looking Goldeneye and claims that he was on a dangerous mission and was wounded – A likely story. Joining him was Prickly Bush, Broken Boner, Slippery, Crash, White Balls showed up as a surprise and then came Wee little bladder just for some wings claiming how his leg is still sore after surgery in Jan – hmmm its like he would do anything to avoid a ~~Broken Boner~~ I mean Pucker run.

Circle up brought with it a few more lovely faces, Grabbin wood, Belinda, Cum See came barreling into the parking lot but since she has a Licence to Kill we all stayed quiet about it.

Some contraption created by elite special ops group was spun and chose me, I turned my back but then was called Octopussy due to the multiple suction marks on my back.

The runners took off like a Thunderball yelling, "you only live twice" after we all were awarded with pistols for out Goldfinger to use as needed. I think Crash was on his way to Casino Royale but then Slippery scared the Living Daylights out of him so he stayed the course.

We all followed trails that were meant For Your eyes only and made our way to a wonderful spot to gather with a quick beverage supplied by the hare, we filled up and said we will Never say Never again!

After a interactive trail with runners, walkers and deer, we converged together once more before Skyfall. We then had circle up where Dr. No punished us all! However as hashers we know Tomorrow Never Dies so we will return in a couple weeks and give it another go.
