It was a very moist run last Thursday. It was very hot so we were moist with sweat and then it rained very hard which made us moist again. But, I digress. That is not what I am going to write about today. We have had a plethora of new hashers so I think it's time to go over the hash history.

When Wee Little Bladder was with his welsh buddies in Malaysia they played a game of hare and hounds. They used a trail of cut paper for the (runners) hounds to follow and at the end they'd drink beer. But in 1950 Wee wanted to form an official group so created a constitution. If you are interested you can read all about it on wikipedia. But don't ask Wee to tell you. He'll drone on for hours and then he'll show you his scars from the war.

The Name

Wee's first wife Bertha, used to be a terrible cook and Wee used to call his dinners hash after a Welsh term for inedible food. The rest of the group would often meet at Wee's house to play hare and hounds so they started calling themselves the hash house harriers.

The Markings

The game progressed and more members joined. Using paper was considered littering by Wee's second wife, Edna. She Would beat him if she saw him cutting up paper. So he started using chalk or flour.

World Wide Status

During the 2nd world war a lot of soldiers would play the game with Wee and when they returned home they continued it with their friends. They adapted and created new rules to continue the fun. For instance, prizes for completing a certain number of hash runs. Most people strive for 500 runs when you become a lady or a sir. Wee has way, way, way more than that. No one knows how many for sure. He is considered an 'Ancient'. You should address him as Ancient Wee Little bladder.

The rest is History

Edna mysteriously died soon after the war so Wee fled home to Wales. He took up with a female named Dolly. Soon after he met his beautiful friend's daughter Diane. He waited until she was of age and then he married a third time. He continues to play hare and hounds to this day.

In attendance of last week's run; as well as our lovely Hare Lady Pucker Sucker we had Broken Boner, Crash Test Rummy, Don't Know Dick, Slippery When Wet, TNT, Whore Sleigher, Dick See Cup, Grabbin' Wood, Pussy Foot, Cum Honour, Wet Spot, and a Virgin named Jade, a virgin named Gregory and Visitors' from Edmonton Willy Wacker and Foul Mouth.
